

BARRY CURRIER

Barry Currier is a legal educator and higher education executive with experience in a variety of teaching and leadership roles. He is the former Managing Director of Accreditation and Legal Education at the American Bar Association Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar. He has been a faculty member at four law schools, including many years at the University of Florida College of Law; visited others, including Monash University in Melbourne, Australia; and been Dean at two (Concord Law School, 2004-2010; Cumberland Law School of Samford University, 1996-2000). He has particular interests in the business and financing of legal education, and in the use of technology in legal education, including but not limited to online learning.

Barry is a member of Order of the Coif and a Life Member of both the American Law Institute and the American Bar Foundation. He is a member of the California Bar (inactive). He served as a Law Clerk in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit and briefly practiced law at Latham & Watkins (Los Angeles).

Education: B.A., University of California, Los Angeles, 1968
J.D., University of Southern California, 1971

Bar Admission: California 1971